Full Stack Java Developer
Beaumont, California, United States

Summary

I've graduated with my bachelor's degree in Game Design from Full Sail University with a course director award in level design. In my time at the university, I've obtained many different skills in game design as a whole, including the psychology of play, level design and 3D modeling software like Maya. For the final project with a team of 4 members, we created a game called Final Paradise, which is a top-down, 3D rogue-like game that was created over the course of 4 months.

Gaming has always been a hobby of mine and in that time I've been able to acquire a vast knowledge in computer hardware and software. I have built my own computer and understand how to use most programs running on Windows. Now that my time at university has ended, I plan on working on small projects and start a great game design career fueled by my passion for games!

Experience

Revature

Java Software Developer
July 2022 - December 2022 (6 months)

Amazon

Warehouse Associate
July 2021 - January 2022 (7 months)
Beaumont, California, United States

A warehouse job for Amazon where I stowed items into bins and ensured that products got processed in a fast-paced environment. I have been accredited for having some of the best accuracy and efficiency while working here.

General Dynamics Information Technology

Computer Operator
March 2020 - December 2020 (10 months)
Barbourville, Kentucky, United States

This was a customer service job for the VA where I would use skills like problem-solving, documenting and utilizing a ticketing system to help the end user resolve their issue. This job sharpened my problem-solving skills and gave me an opportunity to work in a technical environment. I felt like I could've had this job for a very long time, however plans changed with my life leading me in a different direction.

Flowers Bakery

General Worker

April 2019 - November 2019 (8 months)

London, Kentucky

This was a fast-paced environment where I worked to maintain honey buns through the packing process. Flowers Bakery was definitely one of my favorite experiences while working my first job and I gave it my best effort.
